

Internment/Resettlement Specialist (31E)

Internment/Resettlement (I/R) Specialists in the Army are primarily responsible for day-to-day operations in a military confinement/correctional facility or detention/internment facility. I/R Specialists provide rehabilitative, health, welfare, and security to US military prisoners within a confinement or correctional facility; provide custody, control, supervision and security to internees within a detention/internment facility; conduct inspections; prepare written reports; coordinate activities of prisoners/internees and staff personnel.

Some of your duties as an Internment/Resettlement Specialist may include:

- Assisting with supervision and management of confinement and detention operations

- Providing internal or external security to confinement/corrections facilities or detention/internment facilities

- Providing custody, control, supervision and escort to all security levels of U.S. military prisoners or internees/detainees

- Counseling and guidance to individual prisoners within a rehabilitative program

- Prepare or review reports and records of prisoners/internees and programs

TRAINING

Job training for a Internment/Resettlement Specialist requires 19 weeks, one day of One Station Unit Training (OSUT) which includes Basic Training and Advanced Individual Training. Part of the training is spent in the classroom and part in the field. Some of the skills you'll learn about:

- Military laws and jurisdictions

- Level of Force Procedures

- Unarmed Self-Defense Techniques

- Police Deviance and Ethics Procedures

- Interpersonal Communications Skills

- Close confinement operations

- Search and restraint procedures

Use of firearms
Custody and control procedures

HELPFUL SKILLS

Helpful attributes include:

- An ability to think and react quickly
- An ability to remain calm in stressful situations
- An interest in law enforcement and crime prevention

ADVANCED RESPONSIBILITIES

Advanced level Internment/Resettlement (I/A) Specialists supervise and train other Soldiers within the same discipline. As an advanced level I/R Specialist, you may be involved in:

Supervises and establishes all administrative, logistical and food support operations, confinement/correctional, custodial, treatment, and rehabilitative activities

Responsible for all personnel working in the confinement/correctional facility, including security, logistical, and administrative management of the prisoner/internee population

Conduct stand-alone operations, provide command and control, staff planning, administration and logistical services, and custody/control for the operation of an Enemy Prisoner of War/Civilian Internee (EPW/CI) camp, detainee internment facility

Conduct stand-alone operations, provide command and control, staff planning, administration and logistical services, and custody/control for the operation of a displaced civilian (DC) resettlement facility

RELATED CIVILIAN JOBS

The skills you'll learn as a Internment/Resettlement Specialist will help prepare you for a future with federal, state, county or city law enforcement agencies. You might also be able to pursue a career as a security guard with industrial firms, airports or other businesses and institutions.

RELATED ARMY POSITIONS

Military Police (31B)

Criminal Investigations Special Agent (31D)

Information about this MOS provided by: www.goarmy.com

For further information visit: www.minnesotanationalguard.org